FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Gaggle.Net Winner of the 11th Annual EDDIE Awards!

BLOOMINGTON, IL – Gaggle.Net pleased to announce that The ComputED Gazette has selected Gaggle.Net as the best Multi-Level Communication Tool in the 11th Annual Education Software Review Awards (EDDIES)!

These awards target innovative and content-rich programs and websites, which provide teachers with the technology to foster educational excellence--including enhancing the classroom curriculum and improving teacher productivity. Gaggle.Net was selected as a winner based on our safe email, blogs, and other educational communication tools designed specifically for schools.

We are very honored to be receiving such a prestigious award, and we wanted to share our exciting news with all of you who use Gaggle everyday in your schools. Our users are the key to our success and we thank you for your ongoing support!

You can view a complete list of the EDDIE award winners on The ComputED Gazette's website: <http://computedgazette.com>

If your district is looking into student communication tools, please forward this announcement to them and let them know how Gaggle has impacted your students. Thank you again for your support to the now awarding winning Gaggle.Net!

About Gaggle.Net

Founded in 1998, Gaggle.Net is in its ninth year of providing safe, teacher-controlled email to K-12 students across the country and worldwide. Currently, over 14,000 schools are signed up for Gaggle.Net's safe student email system. More than just email, Gaggle.Net has expanded to include student-focused blogs, chat rooms, message boards, digital lockers, and profile pages. All of these features are filtered for inappropriate content and images, and offer full monitoring capabilities to teachers. These tools are located on Gaggle.Net's web-based system so learning and communication can be extend outside the classroom walls. Student's can access their Gaggle accounts from an Internet connected computer.
